

Dr. Jordan Elchynski & Dr. Liz Goldenberg are the Managing Directors of The Adaptology Institute, an organization dedicated to educating a wide range of clients in the private, public and non-profit sectors, on the principles and practice of Adaptive Intelligence.

Dr. Jordan Elchynski is also a Physical Therapist at Sancta Maria, a Rehabilitation Hospital and Long-term Care Facility in Boston Massachusetts. He is also a part-time Research Fellow in the Psychology Department at New York University. Jordan completed his Bachelor of Science in Exercise Physiology at West Virginia University (WVU), and also received his Doctorate of Physical Therapy from WVU. He was the recipient of WVU's Blue and Gold Scholarship. For the past 5 years, Jordan has been an active member of the American Physical Therapy Association, participating in ongoing research in Neurology and Geriatric care. Throughout his career, Jordan has also consulted with numerous healthcare practitioners and organizations worldwide.